WEDNESDAY, MAY 1, 2024

Dear Maverick Community,

Like many of you, I have watched with close interest the various protests that have occurred over recent weeks on many campuses across the nation, including our own. In doing so, I have come to appreciate how members of the Maverick community engage with one another peacefully.

Our collaborative efforts have provided the UTA community opportunities for civil discourse while also ensuring the safety of our entire campus and preventing interference or disruption of class instruction, University operations, and other scheduled events. The UTA Division of Student Affairs and the UTA Police Department, among others, have worked with protest organizers so that everyone understands our policies and procedures.

Since my most recent message to campus, we have continued our efforts to safely facilitate free expression and civil discourse. As part of those ongoing efforts, we recently introduced the Prohibition of Camping on University Property Policy. This policy prohibits setting up outdoor tents or other camping structures on the UTA campus.

If you choose to engage in civil discourse and free expression, I ask that you, as a member of our campus community, familiarize yourself with UTA's Freedoms of Speech website and follow the directives provided by UTA Student Affairs and UTA Police.

Interference or disruption of class instruction, University operations, scheduled events, and other violations of related UTA policies and procedures will not be permitted.

Thank you for your collaboration and cooperation in ensuring that civil discourse and free expression are done so safely and consistent with UTA's policies and procedures.

Sincerely,

Jennifer Cowley, Ph.D. UTA President

Subject: Request for Interview or Statement Regarding the Events of May 1

Date: Thursday, May 2, 2024 3:13:21 PM

Hello Dr. Fitch and members of Student Affairs leadership,

This is Gregorio Olivares, the new Editor in Chief of The Mercury. I am reaching out to you in hopes of arranging interviews regarding the events of May 1, or if an interview is not possible a written statement from Student Affairs regarding the actions taken by protesters and campus administration alike.

The Mercury has provided live coverage of the developing situation since the creation of the encampment, the use of police to disperse the encampment and the protests at Collin County Jail in response to the arrest of 21 students, staff and community members.

We are going to continue providing updates to our coverage as individuals continue to be charged and or released from jail, but we also plan on providing a summative news story giving an overview of all the events, and we would love to have the voice of Student Affairs within this piece be it either through an interview, I am happy to work with your schedules, or a written statement sent to this email preferably before May 11th.

Moreover, we are interested in the specifics of what policies the campus has which prohibited the encampment and allowed for the use of state troopers, who called for the police to arrive, and any communications which were given to the protestors. However, we understand that this information may not fall under the purview of your office, but we would appreciate any suggested contacts or information you can provide nonetheless.

If you have any questions or concerns, don't hesitate to reach out to me via this email or by the provided phone number as well. I look forward to hearing back from you.

Best regards,

Gregorio Olivares Gutierrez

Hello Chief Brent Tourangeau,

This is Gregorio Olivares, the new Editor in Chief of The Mercury. I am reaching out to you in hopes of arranging interviews regarding the events of May 1 regarding the actions taken by protesters and campus administration alike — with specific emphasis placed on UTD PD's presence at the event and how that intersected with the presence of other local and state level law enforcement forces present during the clearing of the encampment.

The Mercury has provided live coverage of the developing situation since the creation of the encampment, the use of police to disperse the encampment and the protests at Collin County Jail in response to the arrest of 21 students, staff and community members.

The Mercury is particularly interested in details regarding who ordered the use of police on the protest, any warnings or messages which were conveyed to the protesters beforehand, who was in charge of the deconstruction of the encampment, and the role of UTD PD.

We would love to have your voice in our upcoming summative piece looking at what occurred on May 1, let me know what possible interview time works best for you or the appropriate UTD PD officers for an interview sometime within the next week.

I just wanted to let you all know that, since I was on campus for much of the day earlier today, I was a bit uncomfortable and uneasy with seeing the protest, demonstrators, walls, barricades, encampments and such all set up BUT I am doing ok and well nonetheless and tried to stay away from that area all day today.

I just thought I'd let you all know.

I heard that some students and faculty got arrested unfortunately.

I am following back. We are coming to a deadline by 4p.m.

We would like to know if the protestors who are there currently would have to go eventually? Or able to camp there? What would happen if they eventually do not leave?

Any information will be great.

Attached are the judge's conditions of release for the students/staff that were arrested.

I have already spoken to Dr. Roemer about Dr Admiral's ability to be on campus for official business only and encouraged him to remind Dr Admiral that she may not be present at the protest or any other non-class/research related event per the judge's release. I understand she only wanted to be here long enough to gather her laptop and then leave.

I will also provide this list to our dispatchers/patrol officers so those students/staff are not arrested for being on campus if they are following the judge's conditions.

COURT ORDER FOR CONDITIONS OF BOND

The following standard conditions of bond are hereby ordered and shall apply to the bond posted by the defendant in the defendant's case(s).

The defendant shall:

- Not use any "controlled substances" or "controlled substance analogue" as defined by section 481.002, Texas Health and Safety Code unless prescribed by your physician;
- 2. Submit to periodic, non-diluted testing for the presence of a controlled substance and pay for such testing,
- 3. Not be alleged to have committed any new offense against this state or any other state or federal jurisdiction.
- 4. Show up for court every single time you are required to appear, on-time,
- 5. Notify the clerk of the court if your address changes while the case is pending
- 6. Other May not go on the UT Dallas campus except for the purposes of teaching classes or employment related activities

If you do not follow these conditions until the case is fully resolved, you may face significant consequences.

A warrant may be issued for you to be re-arrested and brought before the magistrate or court for a hearing. You may be ordered to post additional bail or follow additional conditions, or your bail may be revoked, meaning you will be detained in jail until your trial, which could take several months. Your bail may be forfeited, meaning you will have to pay the full amount of your bail as a penalty for not following the conditions of your release. If you have a bail bond company, they may sue you to recover this amount, and your assets could be seized and sold to satisfy that debt.

You may be ordered to post additional bail or follow additional conditions, or your bail may be revoked, meaning you will be detained in jail until your trial, which could take several months. Your bail may be forfeited, meaning you will have to pay the full amount of your bail as a penalty for not following the conditions of your release. If you have a bail bond company, they may sue you to recover this amount, and your assets could be seized and sold to satisfy that debt.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 1, 2024

Dear Maverick Community,

Like many of you, I have watched with close interest the various protests that have occurred over recent weeks on many campuses across the nation, including our own. In doing so, I have come to appreciate how members of the Maverick community engage with one another peacefully.

Our collaborative efforts have provided the UTA community opportunities for civil discourse while also ensuring the safety of our entire campus and preventing interference or disruption of class instruction, University operations, and other scheduled events. The UTA Division of Student Affairs and the UTA Police Department, among others, have worked with protest organizers so that everyone understands our policies and procedures.

Since my most recent message to campus, we have continued our efforts to safely facilitate free expression and civil discourse. As part of those ongoing efforts, we recently introduced the Prohibition of Camping on University Property Policy. This policy prohibits setting up outdoor tents or other camping structures on the UTA campus.

If you choose to engage in civil discourse and free expression, I ask that you, as a member of our campus community, familiarize yourself with UTA's Freedoms of Speech website and follow the directives provided by UTA Student Affairs and UTA Police.

Interference or disruption of class instruction, University operations, scheduled events, and other violations of related UTA policies and procedures will not be permitted.

Thank you for your collaboration and cooperation in ensuring that civil discourse and free expression are done so safely and consistent with UTA's policies and procedures.

Sincerely,

Jennifer Cowley, Ph.D. UTA President

Subject: Request for Interview or Statement Regarding the Events of May 1

Date: Thursday, May 2, 2024 3:13:21 PM

Hello Dr. Fitch and members of Student Affairs leadership,

This is Gregorio Olivares, the new Editor in Chief of The Mercury. I am reaching out to you in hopes of arranging interviews regarding the events of May 1, or if an interview is not possible a written statement from Student Affairs regarding the actions taken by protesters and campus administration alike.

The Mercury has provided live coverage of the developing situation since the creation of the encampment, the use of police to disperse the encampment and the protests at Collin County Jail in response to the arrest of 21 students, staff and community members.

We are going to continue providing updates to our coverage as individuals continue to be charged and or released from jail, but we also plan on providing a summative news story giving an overview of all the events, and we would love to have the voice of Student Affairs within this piece be it either through an interview, I am happy to work with your schedules, or a written statement sent to this email preferably before May 11th.

Moreover, we are interested in the specifics of what policies the campus has which prohibited the encampment and allowed for the use of state troopers, who called for the police to arrive, and any communications which were given to the protestors. However, we understand that this information may not fall under the purview of your office, but we would appreciate any suggested contacts or information you can provide nonetheless.

If you have any questions or concerns, don't hesitate to reach out to me via this email or by the provided phone number as well. I look forward to hearing back from you.

Best regards,

Gregorio Olivares Gutierrez

Hello Chief Brent Tourangeau,

This is Gregorio Olivares, the new Editor in Chief of The Mercury. I am reaching out to you in hopes of arranging interviews regarding the events of May 1 regarding the actions taken by protesters and campus administration alike — with specific emphasis placed on UTD PD's presence at the event and how that intersected with the presence of other local and state level law enforcement forces present during the clearing of the encampment.

The Mercury has provided live coverage of the developing situation since the creation of the encampment, the use of police to disperse the encampment and the protests at Collin County Jail in response to the arrest of 21 students, staff and community members.

The Mercury is particularly interested in details regarding who ordered the use of police on the protest, any warnings or messages which were conveyed to the protesters beforehand, who was in charge of the deconstruction of the encampment, and the role of UTD PD.

We would love to have your voice in our upcoming summative piece looking at what occurred on May 1, let me know what possible interview time works best for you or the appropriate UTD PD officers for an interview sometime within the next week.

I just wanted to let you all know that, since I was on campus for much of the day earlier today, I was a bit uncomfortable and uneasy with seeing the protest, demonstrators, walls, barricades, encampments and such all set up BUT I am doing ok and well nonetheless and tried to stay away from that area all day today.

I just thought I'd let you all know.

I heard that some students and faculty got arrested unfortunately.

I am following back. We are coming to a deadline by 4p.m.

We would like to know if the protestors who are there currently would have to go eventually? Or able to camp there? What would happen if they eventually do not leave?

Any information will be great.

Attached are the judge's conditions of release for the students/staff that were arrested.

I have already spoken to Dr. Roemer about Dr Admiral's ability to be on campus for official business only and encouraged him to remind Dr Admiral that she may not be present at the protest or any other non-class/research related event per the judge's release. I understand she only wanted to be here long enough to gather her laptop and then leave.

I will also provide this list to our dispatchers/patrol officers so those students/staff are not arrested for being on campus if they are following the judge's conditions.

COURT ORDER FOR CONDITIONS OF BOND

The following standard conditions of bond are hereby ordered and shall apply to the bond posted by the defendant in the defendant's case(s).

The defendant shall:

- Not use any "controlled substances" or "controlled substance analogue" as defined by section 481.002, Texas Health and Safety Code unless prescribed by your physician;
- 2. Submit to periodic, non-diluted testing for the presence of a controlled substance and pay for such testing,
- 3. Not be alleged to have committed any new offense against this state or any other state or federal jurisdiction.
- 4. Show up for court every single time you are required to appear, on-time,
- 5. Notify the clerk of the court if your address changes while the case is pending
- 6. Other May not go on the UT Dallas campus except for the purposes of teaching classes or employment related activities

If you do not follow these conditions until the case is fully resolved, you may face significant consequences.

A warrant may be issued for you to be re-arrested and brought before the magistrate or court for a hearing. You may be ordered to post additional bail or follow additional conditions, or your bail may be revoked, meaning you will be detained in jail until your trial, which could take several months. Your bail may be forfeited, meaning you will have to pay the full amount of your bail as a penalty for not following the conditions of your release. If you have a bail bond company, they may sue you to recover this amount, and your assets could be seized and sold to satisfy that debt.

You may be ordered to post additional bail or follow additional conditions, or your bail may be revoked, meaning you will be detained in jail until your trial, which could take several months. Your bail may be forfeited, meaning you will have to pay the full amount of your bail as a penalty for not following the conditions of your release. If you have a bail bond company, they may sue you to recover this amount, and your assets could be seized and sold to satisfy that debt.

UT Dallas students set up an encampment overnight to protest war in Gaza

Pro-Palestinian students at the University of Texas at Dallas set up tents on a campus plaza at 4:30 a.m. Wednesday.

They demand that the university to divest "from five militarism manufacturers and war profiteers that have been enabling the ongoing genocide in Gaza."

WEDNESDAY, MAY 1, 2024

Dear Maverick Community,

Like many of you, I have watched with close interest the various protests that have occurred over recent weeks on many campuses across the nation, including our own. In doing so, I have come to appreciate how members of the Maverick community engage with one another peacefully.

Our collaborative efforts have provided the UTA community opportunities for civil discourse while also ensuring the safety of our entire campus and preventing interference or disruption of class instruction, University operations, and other scheduled events. The UTA Division of Student Affairs and the UTA Police Department, among others, have worked with protest organizers so that everyone understands our policies and procedures.

Since my most recent message to campus, we have continued our efforts to safely facilitate free expression and civil discourse. As part of those ongoing efforts, we recently introduced the Prohibition of Camping on University Property Policy. This policy prohibits setting up outdoor tents or other camping structures on the UTA campus.

If you choose to engage in civil discourse and free expression, I ask that you, as a member of our campus community, familiarize yourself with UTA's Freedoms of Speech website and follow the directives provided by UTA Student Affairs and UTA Police.

Interference or disruption of class instruction, University operations, scheduled events, and other violations of related UTA policies and procedures will not be permitted.

Thank you for your collaboration and cooperation in ensuring that civil discourse and free expression are done so safely and consistent with UTA's policies and procedures.

Sincerely,

Jennifer Cowley, Ph.D. UTA President

Dear President Benson,

The University of Texas at Dallas has an obligation to its students, and the community at large to outwardly denounced antisemitism.

I heard on KRLD this morning that there is an anti-Israel encampment set up at the University.

These pro-Palestinian protests are nothing short of a means for people to outwardly express their core antisemitism. There is nothing scholastic, educational, or productive about an anti-Israel, and more so antisemitic encampment on the University grounds.

The Ackerman Center for Holocaust Studies is a globally recognized institution that should stand up loudly against antisemitism and bigotry. Never again means NEVER AGAIN, and antisemitism and bigotry of any kind should not be tolerated on our campus.

How will you respond?

Sincerely, Aaron Noble Class of 2017

UT president: It wasn't a protest. It was criminal trespassing. | Opinion

By Jay C. Hartzell May 2, 2024

There is a long, proud history of protest at The University of Texas at Austin. I am grateful to work at a university where students, faculty and staff care deeply enough about community, national and world events to rally around those causes.

Demonstrations play a role on campuses such as ours. A university, after all, encourages students to discover and develop points of view, and to express them. These activities challenge the ways we think and feed a campus' dynamic atmosphere. UT students have held dozens of peaceful protests, largely without incident, throughout this academic year.

We also have a responsibility to keep the campus and its people safe, and to allow our teaching and research to continue. Our rules provide structure for this responsibility and set up conditions for the co-existence of protests, safety and education. We are constantly reviewing those rules, improving on them, and making sure they protect everyone — those who are protesting and those who are learning, working or visiting campus. These rules also protect free speech, and enforcing them uniformly and consistently keeps us from discriminating against any particular point of view.

For decades, groups with an incredible array of differing views have shared a respect for our rules. These students, though energized by a conflict or cause, have nevertheless worked with us and found permissible ways to express themselves without putting others at risk.

Regrettably, protesters, including many not affiliated with UT, have refused in recent weeks to accept these rules and processes. It pains me deeply that even though the organizers declared their intent to break our rules, they rebuffed numerous attempts by our Office of the Dean of Students to meet beforehand. The on-campus encampments they said they would establish, and then did, were clearly prohibited by our rules, including a prohibition against camping that became effective in 2012. They also threatened to effectively disrupt the education of more than 52,000 students and to set an alarming precedent for anyone seeking to establish encampments in the future. Demonstrators were repeatedly urged, then ordered, to take down the encampments and disperse.

At every step, they refused. At that point, regardless of anyone's opinion, this was no longer a traditional assembly or protest. By the plain language of our rules, it was criminal trespassing.

Some have asked why Texas Department of Public Safety officers were on our campus during the protests. This is a fair question with a clear answer: They were protecting the safety of our campus community by assisting the University of Texas Police Department. Our police department is outstanding, but its size is limited. We knew — as did the demonstrators — that it was unlikely to be adequately staffed for what was coming.

We have watched with concern as disruptive and illegal encampments have sprung up on other university campuses, and we took seriously the pre-protest threats — voiced by organizers and others with no affiliation with UT — to "occupy" our own. As university leaders, we recognized that at other schools, encampments have preceded further and more serious disruptions, safety risks, injuries, and ultimately, more severe and dangerous police intervention. Also, if we allowed encampments in this instance, it would be nearly impossible to stop encampments from other groups in the future without facing challenges of chilling speech or viewpoint discrimination.

It is difficult — for all of us — to see serious police presence and arrests on our campus. It is worse, though, to see a handful of people flout rules meant to protect everyone. It is worse still to see that disorder escalate from encampments to occupations, as has happened at Columbia University and UCLA. And it is terrifying to contemplate where such occupations might end — and who might get hurt.

We share the sincere and deep concerns of many Longhorns about the lives lost in Gaza and Israel. Their human reactions — and their need to express them in hope of a better world — show the importance of our traditions of protest and assembly. Still, UT is a community. Our foremost responsibility has always been to keep that community safe.

We want to work with protesters — within our rules and laws — so they can express themselves. We need them to work with us to fulfill the responsibility we share.

Jay C. Hartzell is president of The University of Texas at Austin.

Hello President Richard Benson & Dr. Rafael Martin,

Good morning, my name is Andre Averion, I'm a reporter for The Mercury Newspaper. We've been told by SJP representatives that "Our administration has already started threatening students with expulsion and possibly getting the state troopers here." To formally communicate with students as to the events unfolding today, including the encampment, would either of you be able to make a statement on these events and this claim? We will be publishing an article as soon as possible covering the event, and your voice could help communicate what's happening today.

I understand this is a busy and cautionary time, but I encourage a statement so the greater Comet Community understands what's happening. We eagerly await a response.

Dear President Benson, Dr. Fitch, Dr. Smith, and the UTD Administration Team,

I hope this message finds you all in good health and high spirits. We've just wrapped up a wonderful week-long Passover celebration, and it was such a joy to welcome many UTD students and faculty to our Chabad center for holiday meals and programs. Since 2022, Chabad has been a comforting place for Jewish students at UT-Dallas—a home away from home, where we gather for dinners, classes, and events that bring our community together.

In recent days, I have been hearing from parents and community members who are concerned about the safety of Jewish students on campus. Following the events at other campuses across the nation, today's developments in Chess Plaza are spreading alarm throughout the Jewish community and have made many Jewish students nervous about taking their finals on campus.

We really appreciate the meeting you extended to Jewish students, which was a wonderful gesture showing that you care about their concerns. It means a lot to them, and it shows that UTD is committed to addressing the issues.

As we look ahead, we're hopeful that the administration's response today will be strong, reinforcing the idea that UTD is a safe, secure and sane space dedicated to learning and academia, not intimidation or chaos. The steps you take now will not only impact how this semester wraps up, but also influence how the wider Jewish community views UT-Dallas in the coming months.

Please keep us posted on any developments, and let us know if there's anything we can do to help. Please also keep us informed of the steps UTD will be taking to ensure that campus security will not be compromised and that antisemitism does not begin to run rampant. We want to work together to ensure that Jewish students feel secure and valued on campus.

Thank you so much for everything you do. We really appreciate your dedication.

With kind regards,

As I have made my rounds today, I have made a point of personally thanking every member of the UTDPD that I have encountered. Given that it may take me a while to personally thank everyone who has earned those thanks, I am sending this note to you in advance.

Of course, the superb professionalism of the UTDPD has long been established, and I want to, again, acknowledge what a vital asset you are to the UT Dallas community. Great credit is due to the example that you set as a leader, and that of your predecessor, Larry Zacharias.

Date: Thursday, May 2, 2024 12:46:19 PM

To Whom It May Concern:

My name is ______, I am a current student of The University of Texas at Dallas. As a Comet, I deeply value the school's Mission and Goals, which is why I am reaching out to you today, asking you to honor those. Part of our mission states that "The University is committed to graduating well-rounded members of the global community whose education has prepared them for rewarding lives and productive careers in a constantly changing world." It is imperative for the University that if they want their students to be prepared for a changing world, they must acknowledge the changing world, especially the active genocide taking place in Gaza. If you are truly committed to "well-rounded members of the global community," you must acknowledge that many countries worldwide have called for a ceasefire.

Further, looking at the goals of the institution, it is clear that the University aims to be "An institution that affirms public trust in higher education through intentional efforts to promote access to the educational experience." UTD stands for access to education; however, the students of Gaza have been denied education, and all universities have been demolished. What better way for our institution to affirm trust in higher education than by acknowledging the right to education for all and recognizing the great crime in denying and destroying educational institutions?

Moreover, the school aims to be "A groundbreaking leader in both framing and answering the questions faced by business, policymakers, health care, and the public." How better to be a groundbreaking leader than to stand based on its own morals and values?

The last three goals of the University are potentially the most important goals the university aspires to achieve:

"A community where students and professionals are engaged with one another so that our graduates understand what it means to live, work, and thrive in a diverse national and global society." If the university aims to build a community for diversity and global society, it must represent diversity and the global society.

"A responsible global citizen that enthusiastically attends to our duty to create a sustainable environment." If the university is impassioned for a sustainable environment, should it not acknowledge that the genocide and continuous bombing of Gaza have created more detriment to the environment?

"One of the most creative and innovative universities in the world." Here is the university's opportunity to be seen and respected globally. The demands align with those of the current students and of the Student for Justice in Palestine at UT Dallas: The "University should wash its hands of the atrocities committed by Israel and other fascist governments around the world" and it should "divest from death and destruction, protect Palestinian voices and advocacy, and condemn the genocidal assault on the Palestinian people by calling for an immediate and permanent ceasefire."

Please make a stance against the actions of Israel and uplift Palestinian liberation and their safety.

Subject: Student Government Inquiry to Yesterday's Events

Good afternoon! On behalf of Student Government, we would like to discuss the events that took place yesterday.

Yesterday, on May 1st, 2024, UT Dallas students and community members gathered in the Chess Plaza for a peaceful encampment protesting the genocide in Gaza. At approximately 4:00pm, around 50 state troopers arrived at the encampment in riot gear, threatening students to immediately disperse on the grounds of trespassing. In an incredibly short period of time from the arrival of the state troopers and announcement that students could not even stand in the Chess Plaza area, troopers threatened violence against students and belongings, and confiscated and destroyed cases of water, food, and student's personal possessions. After the encampment was torn down, troopers formed a barrier disallowing students to stand and protest in the Chess Plaza, instead forcing them to the fringes of the square and into the walkways by the magnolia trees. We understand the encampment was a violation of UTD and UT System policies. However, there should be no issues with students standing for solidarity, distributing food, or tabling with educational materials. Yet, even after shutting down the encampment, troopers violently destroyed these materials and distressingly threatened peaceful protesters to move off the Chess Plaza on the grounds of "trespassing", and some of these officers were laughing at and mocking protesters.

As the representative body for student voices, Student Government is deeply concerned about the rights of students to gather and peacefully protest.

"UT Dallas requested assistance from outside law enforcement in an effort to ensure the safety of our students, faculty and staff. Individuals may peacefully assemble in the common outdoor areas of campus to exercise their right to free speech, but they may not construct an encampment or block pathways," the school said in a statement. As we unfortunately witnessed yesterday, the law enforcement requested was not there to merely remove the encampment. There was no violence or rioting before their arrival, and there was no reason for police to destroy so much property and aggressively threaten peaceful protesters to evacuate the Chess Plaza. These actions served to instill fear in the student body and create a greater obstruction for those needing to move past the area, endangering students' wellbeing. President Benson spoke at the Academic Council meeting earlier that day stating "we certainly want to prevent escalation;" this sentiment was not on display yesterday. One of our own professors was arrested and escorted off the premises in chains. The level of militarism in response to a peaceful protest is unconducive to the safe environment we seek to maintain at UTD. We ask for clear and transparent communication to Student Government regarding why outside law enforcement was called and what the orders were to warrant such an unnecessarily violence dispelling of protesters.

Additionally, UEMR Leadership announced on Wednesday morning that they were restricting student EMT's ability to participate in or engage in planning on-campus protests. We are concerned about the legalities and implications of this rule. UEMR medics are student volunteers and not employees of the University, and nowhere in their most recent version of UEMR's Standard Operating Procedures does it include conditions restricting free speech rights outside of working hours.

We do not see an appropriate justification for banning students from merely being involved in protest planning or action, especially if their protest conduct follows regulations set by UTD. It is imperative our university allows free speech and does not place baseless restrictions on students who serve our community in so many ways. We request that the administration swiftly address and clarify this issue with UEMR leadership and reaffirm the students' rights to free speech and expression.

We appreciate your collaboration and commitment to listening to student voices. While this is a difficult and stressful time for many of us, it is important that we prioritize open communication from all parties so that we can serve our campus and students as best as possible. We look forward to your response.

Thank you,

Hello UTD-PD,

My name is Andre Averion, I'm a reporter for The Mercury Newspaper. We've been told by SJP representatives that "Our administration has already started threatening students with expulsion and possibly getting the state troopers here." To formally communicate with students as to the events unfolding today, including the encampment, would a representative or your organization be able to make a statement on these events and this claim? We will be publishing an article as soon as possible covering the event, and your voice could help communicate what's happening today.

Please describe your grievance in detail.	Honestly, super disappointing to hear that our rights as volunteers for a government-affiliated entity are being violated. There is no reason that we cannot attend and participate in protests while off-duty and not in uniform, so I don't see why that is considered insubordination and "conduct unbecoming." Actually I do understand—it's to preserve a biased, inhumane view and save face for the agency, at the cost of individual freedoms. True colors have been shown, and it ultimately doesn't matter what agency members want if it remotely risks the agency's image—which is already at risk from the poor driving and professionalism seen on campus. Shame on you.

Dear Student Leaders,

I am aware that your organization is advertising a protest for this afternoon. I wanted to extend an offer to meet with you in advance if you have any questions about our assembly policy (UTDSP5001) or the Student Code of Conduct (UTDSP5003). I would be happy to meet over Teams or in person. I have also attached a copy of a bulleted list of policy rules that I provided your group back in October. Please feel free to share this with any organizers of the protest if that would be more helpful.

Sincerely, Dean Smith

- Engaging in expressive activity within 10 feet of the entry and perimeter of all University buildings.
- Freedom of expression and assembly must allow teaching, research, administration, or other authorized activities on the campus.
- Freedom of expression and assembly must allow free and unimpeded flow of pedestrian or vehicular traffic on the campus.
- Possession, use, or display of firearms, facsimile firearms, ammunition, explosives, or other items that could be used as weapons, including but not limited to sticks, poles, clubs, swords, shields, or rigid signs that can be used as a shield.
- Signs on sticks or poles or otherwise attached to any device are prohibited. Holding signs that have "stake" type bases to them, nor can one carry the equivalent of a lawn sign. Anything that could be used as a weapon is not allowed.
- No open flames
- Causing a "disruption" to the business and/or academic mission of the university. This would be marching into an academic building and being loud enough to interrupt a class going on or marching into an administrative building and interfering with the business of any office suite.
- While crude and foul language, even offensive language, is not against policy, a protestor cannot incite a riot/violence/unlawful action. For instance, one cannot yell to the group, "We're going to go find a member of university leadership and make them listen to us!" that would imply an imminent threat to safety and, given the context, would not just be an utterance of a phrase without intent.
- Erecting any type of temporary object or exhibit, anything physical in structure that would accompany said protest. This includes but is not limited to tents and barricades.

- Engaging in expressive activity within 10 feet of the entry and perimeter of all University buildings.
- Freedom of expression and assembly must allow teaching, research, administration, or other authorized activities on the campus.
- Freedom of expression and assembly must allow free and unimpeded flow of pedestrian or vehicular traffic on the campus.
- Possession, use, or display of firearms, facsimile firearms, ammunition, explosives, or other items that could be used as weapons, including but not limited to sticks, poles, clubs, swords, shields, or rigid signs that can be used as a shield.
- Signs on sticks or poles or otherwise attached to any device are prohibited. Holding signs that have "stake" type bases to them, nor can one carry the equivalent of a lawn sign. Anything that could be used as a weapon is not allowed.
- No open flames
- Causing a "disruption" to the business and/or academic mission of the university. This would be marching into an academic building and being loud enough to interrupt a class going on or marching into an administrative building and interfering with the business of any office suite.
- While crude and foul language, even offensive language, is not against policy, a protestor cannot incite a riot/violence/unlawful action. For instance, one cannot yell to the group, "We're going to go find a member of university leadership and make them listen to us!" that would imply an imminent threat to safety and, given the context, would not just be an utterance of a phrase without intent.
- Erecting any type of temporary object or exhibit, anything physical in structure that would accompany said protest. This includes but is not limited to tents and barricades.
- Intentionally shielding one's face to evade identity; this would be different than a face covering typically associated with COVID-19/Cold protection or for religious/cultural requirements/reasons.
- Wearing of any type of body armor or helmet

UT president: It wasn't a protest. It was criminal trespassing. | Opinion

By Jay C. Hartzell May 2, 2024

There is a long, proud history of protest at The University of Texas at Austin. I am grateful to work at a university where students, faculty and staff care deeply enough about community, national and world events to rally around those causes.

Demonstrations play a role on campuses such as ours. A university, after all, encourages students to discover and develop points of view, and to express them. These activities challenge the ways we think and feed a campus' dynamic atmosphere. UT students have held dozens of peaceful protests, largely without incident, throughout this academic year.

We also have a responsibility to keep the campus and its people safe, and to allow our teaching and research to continue. Our rules provide structure for this responsibility and set up conditions for the co-existence of protests, safety and education. We are constantly reviewing those rules, improving on them, and making sure they protect everyone — those who are protesting and those who are learning, working or visiting campus. These rules also protect free speech, and enforcing them uniformly and consistently keeps us from discriminating against any particular point of view.

For decades, groups with an incredible array of differing views have shared a respect for our rules. These students, though energized by a conflict or cause, have nevertheless worked with us and found permissible ways to express themselves without putting others at risk.

Regrettably, protesters, including many not affiliated with UT, have refused in recent weeks to accept these rules and processes. It pains me deeply that even though the organizers declared their intent to break our rules, they rebuffed numerous attempts by our Office of the Dean of Students to meet beforehand. The on-campus encampments they said they would establish, and then did, were clearly prohibited by our rules, including a prohibition against camping that became effective in 2012. They also threatened to effectively disrupt the education of more than 52,000 students and to set an alarming precedent for anyone seeking to establish encampments in the future. Demonstrators were repeatedly urged, then ordered, to take down the encampments and disperse.

At every step, they refused. At that point, regardless of anyone's opinion, this was no longer a traditional assembly or protest. By the plain language of our rules, it was criminal trespassing.

Some have asked why Texas Department of Public Safety officers were on our campus during the protests. This is a fair question with a clear answer: They were protecting the safety of our campus community by assisting the University of Texas Police Department. Our police department is outstanding, but its size is limited. We knew — as did the demonstrators — that it was unlikely to be adequately staffed for what was coming.

We have watched with concern as disruptive and illegal encampments have sprung up on other university campuses, and we took seriously the pre-protest threats — voiced by organizers and others with no affiliation with UT — to "occupy" our own. As university leaders, we recognized that at other schools, encampments have preceded further and more serious disruptions, safety risks, injuries, and ultimately, more severe and dangerous police intervention. Also, if we allowed encampments in this instance, it would be nearly impossible to stop encampments from other groups in the future without facing challenges of chilling speech or viewpoint discrimination.

It is difficult — for all of us — to see serious police presence and arrests on our campus. It is worse, though, to see a handful of people flout rules meant to protect everyone. It is worse still to see that disorder escalate from encampments to occupations, as has happened at Columbia University and UCLA. And it is terrifying to contemplate where such occupations might end — and who might get hurt.

We share the sincere and deep concerns of many Longhorns about the lives lost in Gaza and Israel. Their human reactions — and their need to express them in hope of a better world — show the importance of our traditions of protest and assembly. Still, UT is a community. Our foremost responsibility has always been to keep that community safe.

We want to work with protesters — within our rules and laws — so they can express themselves. We need them to work with us to fulfill the responsibility we share.

Dear Student Leaders,

I am aware that your organization is advertising a protest for this afternoon. I wanted to extend an offer to meet with you in advance if you have any questions about our assembly policy (UTDSP5001) or the Student Code of Conduct (UTDSP5003). I would be happy to meet over Teams or in person. I have also attached a copy of a bulleted list of policy rules that I provided your group back in October. Please feel free to share this with any organizers of the protest if that would be more helpful.

Drs..

Attached are the judge's conditions of release for the students/staff that were arrested.

I have already spoken to Dr. Roemer about Dr Admiral's ability to be on campus for official business only and encouraged him to remind Dr Admiral that she may not be present at the protest or any other non-class/research related event per the judge's release. I understand she only wanted to be here long enough to gather her laptop and then leave.

I will also provide this list to our dispatchers/patrol officers so those students/staff are not arrested for being on campus if they are following the judge's conditions.

COURT ORDER FOR CONDITIONS OF BOND

The following standard conditions of bond are hereby ordered and shall apply to the bond posted by the defendant in the defendant's case(s).

The defendant shall:

- 1. Not use any "controlled substances" or "controlled substance analogue" as defined by section 481.002, Texas Health and Safety Code unless prescribed by your physician;
- 2. Submit to periodic, non-diluted testing for the presence of a controlled substance and pay for such testing,
- 3. Not be alleged to have committed any new offense against this state or any other state or federal jurisdiction.
- 4. Show up for court every single time you are required to appear, on-time,
- 5. Notify the clerk of the court if your address changes while the case is pending
- 6. Other May not go on the UT Dallas campus except for the purposes of teaching classes or employment related activities

If you do not follow these conditions until the case is fully resolved, you may face significant consequences.

A warrant may be issued for you to be re-arrested and brought before the magistrate or court for a hearing. You may be ordered to post additional bail or follow additional conditions, or your bail may be revoked, meaning you will be detained in jail until your trial, which could take several months. Your bail may be forfeited, meaning you will have to pay the full amount of your bail as a penalty for not following the conditions of your release. If you have a bail bond company, they may sue you to recover this amount, and your assets could be seized and sold to satisfy that debt.

There is a long, proud history of protest at The University of Texas at Austin. I am grateful to work at a university where students, faculty and staff care deeply enough about community, national and world events to rally around those causes.

Demonstrations play a role on campuses such as ours. A university, after all, encourages students to discover and develop points of view, and to express them. These activities challenge the ways we think and feed a campus' dynamic atmosphere. UT students have held dozens of peaceful protests, largely without incident, throughout this academic year.

We also have a responsibility to keep the campus and its people safe, and to allow our teaching and research to continue. Our rules provide structure for this responsibility and set up conditions for the co-existence of protests, safety and education. We are constantly reviewing those rules, improving on them, and making sure they protect everyone — those who are protesting and those who are learning, working or visiting campus. These rules also protect free speech, and enforcing them uniformly and consistently keeps us from discriminating against any particular point of view.

For decades, groups with an incredible array of differing views have shared a respect for our rules. These students, though energized by a conflict or cause, have nevertheless worked with us and found permissible ways to express themselves without putting others at risk.

Regrettably, protesters, including many not affiliated with UT, have refused in recent weeks to accept these rules and processes. It pains me deeply that even though the organizers declared their intent to break our rules, they rebuffed numerous attempts by our Office of the Dean of Students to meet beforehand. The on-campus encampments they said they would establish, and then did, were clearly prohibited by our rules, including a prohibition against camping that became effective in 2012. They also threatened to effectively disrupt the education of more than 52,000 students and to set an alarming precedent for anyone seeking to establish encampments in the future. Demonstrators were repeatedly urged, then ordered, to take down the encampments and disperse.

At every step, they refused. At that point, regardless of anyone's opinion, this was no longer a traditional assembly or protest. By the plain language of our rules, it was criminal trespassing.

Some have asked why Texas Department of Public Safety officers were on our campus during the protests. This is a fair question with a clear answer: They were protecting the safety of our campus community by assisting the University of Texas Police Department. Our police department is outstanding, but its size is limited. We knew — as did the demonstrators — that it was unlikely to be adequately staffed for what was coming.

We have watched with concern as disruptive and illegal encampments have sprung up on other university campuses, and we took seriously the pre-protest threats — voiced by organizers and others with no affiliation with UT — to "occupy" our own. As university leaders, we recognized that at other schools, encampments have preceded further and more serious disruptions, safety risks, injuries, and ultimately, more severe and dangerous police intervention. Also, if we allowed encampments in this instance, it would be nearly impossible to stop encampments from other groups in the future without facing challenges of chilling speech or viewpoint discrimination.

It is difficult — for all of us — to see serious police presence and arrests on our campus. It is worse, though, to see a handful of people flout rules meant to protect everyone. It is worse still to see that disorder escalate from encampments to occupations, as has happened at Columbia University and UCLA. And it is terrifying to contemplate where such occupations might end — and who might get hurt.

We share the sincere and deep concerns of many Longhorns about the lives lost in Gaza and Israel. Their human reactions — and their need to express them in hope of a better world — show the importance of our traditions of protest and assembly. Still, UT is a community. Our foremost responsibility has always been to keep that community safe.

We want to work with protesters — within our rules and laws — so they can express themselves. We need them to work with us to fulfill the responsibility we share.

Jay C. Hartzell is president of The University of Texas at Austin.

Dear Student Leaders,

I am aware that your organization is advertising a protest for this afternoon. I wanted to extend an offer to meet with you in advance if you have any questions about our assembly policy (UTDSP5001) or the Student Code of Conduct (UTDSP5003). I would be happy to meet over Teams or in person. I have also attached a copy of a bulleted list of policy rules that I provided your group back in October. Please feel free to share this with any organizers of the protest if that would be more helpful.

Sincerely,

Dean Smith

Subject: Request for Interview or Statement Regarding the Events of May 1

Hello Dr. Fitch and members of Student Affairs leadership,

This is Gregorio Olivares, the new Editor in Chief of The Mercury. I am reaching out to you in hopes of arranging interviews regarding the events of May 1, or if an interview is not possible a written statement from Student Affairs regarding the actions taken by protesters and campus administration alike.

The Mercury has provided live coverage of the developing situation since the creation of the encampment, the use of police to disperse the encampment and the protests at Collin County Jail in response to the arrest of 21 students, staff and community members.

We are going to continue providing updates to our coverage as individuals continue to be charged and or released from jail, but we also plan on providing a summative news story giving an overview of all the events, and we would love to have the voice of Student Affairs within this piece be it either through an interview, I am happy to work with your schedules, or a written statement sent to this email preferably before May 11th.

Moreover, we are interested in the specifics of what policies the campus has which prohibited the encampment and allowed for the use of state troopers, who called for the police to arrive, and any communications which were given to the protestors. However, we understand that this information may not fall under the purview of your office, but we would appreciate any suggested contacts or information you can provide nonetheless.

If you have any questions or concerns, don't hesitate to reach out to me via this email or by the provided phone number as well. I look forward to hearing back from you.

Best regards,

Subject: Feeling Unsafe On Campus

Good morning,

I am a student at UT Dallas who will

I am writing this email to express that I currently feel unsafe walking around campus due to the protests that have been taking place within the past school year, and now more so than ever. Expression at the harm of students safety is unacceptable. I have attended events at the university. However, I no longer feel safe doing so, let alone walking around campus. I have seen many videos of antisemitic comments being made, and I am ashamed to walk around a campus where these actions are taking place. This feeling of discomfort is disgusting, and I write to you in hopes of feeling safe again.

Mr. Shaw,

I am the coordinator of the National Lawyer's Guild DFW Chapter. Our organization has agreed to represent the 21 students arrested at UTD and two of our members, Daniel Sullivan and Adwoa Asante, have already filed letters of representation on their behalf.

I come to you with concerns about the 21 students being informed by campus police that they cannot be on campus even for class, even students whose bond conditions do not state as such. I am also concerned under what authority campus police are refusing to release belongings to the students and requiring them to meet qualifying conditions to have their own personal property returned to them.

I look forward to hearing from you.

I'd like to follow up on this and express our sincere gratitude for the swift and decisive action taken by UTD administration regarding the encampment.

It was a tremendous relief to the Jewish students and community to see that this type of extremism will not be tolerated on campus.

Thank you for your dedication to keeping everyone safe.

I look forward to being in touch.

Dear President Benson, Dr. Fitch, Dr. Smith, and the UTD Administration Team,

I hope this message finds you all in good health and high spirits. We've just wrapped up a wonderful week-long Passover celebration, and it was such a joy to welcome many UTD students and faculty to our Chabad center for holiday meals and programs. Since 2022, Chabad has been a comforting place for Jewish students at UT-Dallas—a home away from home, where we gather for dinners, classes, and events that bring our community together.

In recent days, I have been hearing from parents and community members who are concerned about the safety of Jewish students on campus. Following the events at other campuses across the nation, today's developments in Chess Plaza are spreading alarm throughout the Jewish community and have made many Jewish students nervous about taking their finals on campus.

We really appreciate the meeting you extended to Jewish students, which was a wonderful gesture showing that you care about their concerns. It means a lot to them, and it shows that UTD is committed to addressing the issues.

As we look ahead, we're hopeful that the administration's response today will be strong, reinforcing the idea that UTD is a safe, secure and sane space dedicated to learning and academia, not intimidation or chaos. The steps you take now will not only impact how this semester wraps up, but also influence how the wider Jewish community views UTDallas in the coming months.

Please keep us posted on any developments, and let us know if there's anything we can do to help. Please also keep us informed of the steps UTD will be taking to ensure that campus security will not be compromised and that antisemitism does not begin to run rampant. We want to work together to ensure that Jewish students feel secure and valued on campus.

Thank you so much for everything you do. We really appreciate your dedication.

With kind regards,

Kimberly,

We understand where your concern is coming from. However, we can't help but wonder what would happen if another protest spontaneously takes place on Monday as well.

This meeting with President Benson, from our understanding, was scheduled out of concern for the Jewish and Israeli population on campus. Our concerns are urgent too. By moving this meeting, you're showing us that our concerns and urgent matters come second to the protests.

The meeting shouldn't take more than an hour, and there are other administrative personnel to take care of the protesters if needed.

If possible, we would like to keep the meeting today.

Looking forward to your response.

Sincerely,

Subject: Subject: Safety for Jewish students at UTD Date: Wednesday, May 1, 2024 12:46:08 PM

Dear President Benson, Dr. Fitch, Dr. Smith, and the UTD Administration Team,

I hope this message finds you all in good health and high spirits. We've just wrapped up a wonderful week-long Passover celebration, and it was such a joy to welcome many UTD students and faculty to our Chabad center for holiday meals and programs. Since 2022, Chabad has been a comforting place for Jewish students at UT-Dallas—a home away from home, where we gather for dinners, classes, and events that bring our community together.

In recent days, I have been hearing from parents and community members who are concerned about the safety of Jewish students on campus. Following the events at other campuses across the nation, today's developments in Chess Plaza are spreading alarm throughout the Jewish community and have made many Jewish students nervous about taking their finals on campus.

We really appreciate the meeting you extended to Jewish students, which was a wonderful gesture showing that you care about their concerns. It means a lot to them, and it shows that UTD is committed to addressing the issues.

As we look ahead, we're hopeful that the administration's response today will be strong, reinforcing the idea that UTD is a safe, secure and sane space dedicated to learning and academia, not intimidation or chaos. The steps you take now will not only impact how this semester wraps up, but also influence how the wider Jewish community views UT-Dallas in the coming months.

Please keep us posted on any developments, and let us know if there's anything we can do to help. Please also keep us informed of the steps UTD will be taking to ensure that campus security will not be compromised and that antisemitism does not begin to run rampant. We want to work together to ensure that Jewish students feel secure and valued on campus.

Thank you so much for everything you do. We really appreciate your dedication.

With kind regards,

Subject: Re: UEMR Protest Policy

Thank you for your patience in this matter. I have copied our student leadership, Operations Manager and Chief of Police on this email.

First, I need to address information that the Mercury printed in a story on 5/1 that was inaccurate. https://utdmercury.com/comets-create-encampment-in-solidarity-with-gaza

"At 11:15 a.m. SJP shared a message from UTD Emergency Medical Services Director Sheila Elliott, in which she said that UEMR members "are prohibited from participating in any protest on campus." Elliott said if UEMR employees were found to be involved in protest planning, it would be considered "insubordination" and they would be ordered to cease immediately. At the time of publication, Elliott has not responded to requests for comment."

Please understand that UEMR members are not "employees." I am the only full-time employee of UEMR. The EMS Providers within UEMR are VOLUNTEERS and are licensed EMS providers with the state of Texas. As a licensed provider, they are required to uphold the following the Texas Administrative Code, or they can receive disciplinary action and/or lose their medical license:

https://texreg.sos.state.tx.us/public/readtac$ext.TacPage?sl=R&app=9&p_dir=&p_rloc=&p_tloc=&p_ploc=&pg=1&p_tac=&ti=25&pt=1&ch=157&rl=36

Furthermore, as a licensed First Responder Organization, UEMR is required to uphold the following Texas Administrative Code:

https://texreg.sos.state.tx.us/public/readtac$ext.TacPage?sl=R&app=9&p_dir=&p_rloc=&p_tloc=&p_ploc=&pg=1&p_tac=&ti=25&pt=1&ch=157&rl=14

I am the EMS Director for University Emergency Medical Response (UEMR), the licensed first responder organization at The University of Texas at Dallas (UTD). I would like to take this time to clarify and contextualize a message that I made on May 1st regarding our campus EMS providers refraining from participating in the protests on campus. This announcement was made on SLACK, which is University Emergency Medical Response's private internal communication system.

UEMR provides first responder services at UTD but is organized as an independent entity that is legally separate from UTD. As a state-licensed first responder organization (not a UTD student organization), our sole focus is promoting the health and welfare of the students, faculty, and all other individuals on the UTD campus. We treat all individuals, regardless of race, ethnicity or political stance. UEMR is 93 members strong, where we have been nationally recognized as an EMS Ready Campus, at the highest tier.

Our first responders are VOLUNTEERS, not employees. UEMR has no affiliation with or bias toward any political viewpoint. In the same message asking our EMS providers to refrain from participating in the protests on campus, I also notified our providers of the need to increase EMS coverage in the case of a large-scale medical emergency related to the demonstration on 5/1. In no instance did I instruct UEMR providers to abstain from providing care to protestors on campus.

In regard to my message about prohibiting providers from participating in the protests: this is not a result of the issue being protested. During any moments of protest or unrest on campus, UEMR providers have a responsibility to promote the safety and order of the individuals on campus. This preserves the ability of our members to respond as medical providers in cases of escalation.

Furthermore, UEMR has a civic responsibility as a state-licensed first responder organization to be viewed as unbiased so that anyone who is in need, is comfortable calling on our organization for help instead of identifying us as part of any side of a protest and then choosing not to seek help from us out of fear of bias.

UEMR is a unique EMS agency in that its providers are both students and emergency response personnel, resulting in us having a close working relationship with both the student body and response organizations that are a part of UTD (Police Department, Emergency Management, etc.).

With all this said, UEMR Volunteer licensed EMS Providers must maintain medical integrity and are prohibited from participating in protests on campus while ON DUTY and/or representing UEMR. I have also urged our EMS Providers to use professionalism and discretion in these matters.

Good afternoon,

This is Gregorio Olivares with The Mercury, UTD's award winning student-run newspaper. We are reaching out to you in response to a recent instagram post highlighting a statement you made about UEMR members ability to participate in protests.

We would appreciate it if you could send us a statement explaining the veracity of this message, and the context behind it. Moreover, we would appreciate it if you could tell us if the work contract, if any, that students are made to sign to participate in UEMR contains any clauses which prohibit their ability to protest.

This information is for a breaking news story, and we would appreciate a response by the end of the work day.

Subject: Request for Interview Regarding the Events of May 1

Hello Chief Brent Tourangeau,

This is Gregorio Olivares, the new Editor in Chief of The Mercury. I am reaching out to you in hopes of arranging interviews regarding the events of May 1 regarding the actions taken by protesters and campus administration alike — with specific emphasis placed on UTD PD's presence at the event and how that intersected with the presence of other local and state level law enforcement forces present during the clearing of the encampment.

The Mercury has provided live coverage of the developing situation since the creation of the encampment, the use of police to disperse the encampment and the protests at Collin County Jail in response to the arrest of 21 students, staff and community members.

The Mercury is particularly interested in details regarding who ordered the use of police on the protest, any warnings or messages which were conveyed to the protesters beforehand, who was in charge of the deconstruction of the encampment, and the role of UTD PD.

We would love to have your voice in our upcoming summative piece looking at what occurred on May 1, let me know what possible interview time works best for you or the appropriate UTD PD officers for an interview sometime within the next week.

Best regards,

Gregorio Olivares Gutierrez

Captain Perry,

We're meet with school ceremony staff later this week and planned to give them instructions and guidelines for dealing with disruptions at the events.

We just want to make sure that we're giving out correct information.

Who would you like this form to go to?	Chief Zach (UTD Chief of Police)-ONLY if grievance directly concerns Director
Please describe your grievance in detail.	Sheila Elliot is unfit to continue in her position as Director of UEMR. Prohibiting the right to free speech and peaceful protest of volunteers is inherently unlawful and unconstitutional. This is a direct violation of the privileges and powers she holds, stripping away the constitutional privileges or U.S. citizens who are UNPAID VOLUNTEERS under her administration. UEMR is associated with UTD, however, the student volunteers hold every right to participate in peaceful protests for their causes. Calling this "insubordination" is cruel and disgusting. This is a grotesque abuse of power. Any action taken to terminate those who have spoken out against these fascist ideologies is discrimination and also equally unlawful. I am calling for the UTD Chief of Police to find someone else who will respect the constitutional rights of UTD students and refuse to hold them hostage under a tyrannical abuse of power.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 1, 2024

Dear Maverick Community,

Like many of you, I have watched with close interest the various protests that have occurred over recent weeks on many campuses across the nation, including our own. In doing so, I have come to appreciate how members of the Maverick community engage with one another peacefully.

Our collaborative efforts have provided the UTA community opportunities for civil discourse while also ensuring the safety of our entire campus and preventing interference or disruption of class instruction, University operations, and other scheduled events. The UTA Division of Student Affairs and the UTA Police Department, among others, have worked with protest organizers so that everyone understands our policies and procedures.

Since my most recent message to campus, we have continued our efforts to safely facilitate free expression and civil discourse. As part of those ongoing efforts, we recently introduced the Prohibition of Camping on University Property Policy. This policy prohibits setting up outdoor tents or other camping structures on the UTA campus.

If you choose to engage in civil discourse and free expression, I ask that you, as a member of our campus community, familiarize yourself with UTA's Freedoms of Speech website and follow the directives provided by UTA Student Affairs and UTA Police.

Interference or disruption of class instruction, University operations, scheduled events, and other violations of related UTA policies and procedures will not be permitted.

Thank you for your collaboration and cooperation in ensuring that civil discourse and free expression are done so safely and consistent with UTA's policies and procedures.

Sincerely,

Jennifer Cowley, Ph.D.

UTA President
